Healthcare staffing company expands, changes name

Despite the national dip in job opportunities, the healthcare field is starting to rebound according to Julie K. Irving, Owner of ClearDay Healthcare Staffing, formerly known as XRAYZ 4U LLC.

With the economy starting to heat up again, ClearDay Healthcare Staffing now offers nationwide temporary and direct hire opportunities in all areas of the healthcare field, such as physicians, nursing, medical imaging, allied health, laboratory technicians, rehab, and administrative positions.

In keeping with this expansion, ClearDay Healthcare Staffing is moving the business to a new location in King George.

“The success of XRAYZ 4U and now ClearDay Healthcare Staffing is due to our many long-term clients and excellent medical personnel.

Our staffing team excels in personal service, and that makes all the difference in this or any business,” said Irving. “We are so excited about this move and the opportunity to continue to grow the business. This change has been a long in time coming.”

As a healthcare professional herself with certifications in Mammography, CT and X-Ray, Irving founded XRAYZ 4U in 2000 in response to an overwhelming shortage and the high demand for medical imaging professionals, and her love of Radiology. She began supplying temporary and direct-hire personnel to healthcare facilities nationwide. In 2001, the company moved its headquarters from the Washington D.C. metro area to Virginia’s Northern Neck.

“There are a lot of exciting prospects on the horizon,” said Irving. “We have placed personnel nationwide for years, and are now hoping to expand into the government contracting arena. ClearDay Healthcare Staffing is a company on the move!”

The new office in King George is in a historic building on the Rte. 3 corridor near the Courthouse. Irving is also a Certified Personnel Consultant, offering resume consultation services to individuals seeking employment.

She is contemplating using a portion of the new building as a business center in the future, to offer additional professional services.
